Subject: Settlement

As a person who has worked in the IT / DP field for over 20 years, on all platforms, I feel that I have some knowledge of the field and the software in use.

It appears that the settlement is a win / lose situation, with MicroSoft getting everything they want and the consumer getting nothing in return. The so called controls that are proposed are laughable when examined closely as is the "gift" to the schools.

Sincerely

Dale M. Cunningham
